Dear Mr. Bulcke:

On behalf of the National Association of Police Organizations (NAPO), I write to inform you that we have sent the attached letter to CNN, expressing outrage and serious concern with a statement made by CNN anchor Fredricka Whitfield on June 13, 2015. During her program, Ms. Whitfield referred to a gunman who attempted to murder police officers, as "courageous and brave."

We understand that your company advertises its products on CNN, and we urge you to pull your advertisements from this network, which continues to vilify police officers.

Ms. Whitfield's outrageous and irresponsible statement not only disrespects law enforcement officers, but also endangers the lives of officers. Such statements, which continue to be made by CNN anchors, have lead to increased tension in communities across the nation.

We urge you to pull your advertisements from this network, whose anchors continue to mischaracterize the law enforcement community and the selfless work they do each and every day.

If you would like to discuss this issue further, please feel free to contact me at: (703) 549-0774.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

William J. Johnson

Dear Mr. Sivewright:

On behalf of the National Association of Police Organizations (NAPO), I write to inform you that we have sent the attached letter to CNN, expressing outrage and serious concern with a statement made by CNN anchor Fredricka Whitfield on June 13, 2015. During her program, Ms. Whitfield referred to a gunman who attempted to murder police officers, as "courageous and brave."

We understand that your company advertises its products on CNN, and we urge you to pull your advertisements from this network, which continues to vilify police officers.

Ms. Whitfield's outrageous and irresponsible statement not only disrespects law enforcement officers, but also endangers the lives of officers. Such statements, which continue to be made by CNN anchors, have lead to increased tension in communities across the nation.

We urge you to pull your advertisements from this network, whose anchors continue to mischaracterize the law enforcement community and the selfless work they do each and every day.

If you would like to discuss this issue further, please feel free to contact me at: (703) 549-0774.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

William J. Johnson
